At the Annual General Meeting of the European Curling Federation held today at Füssen, Germany at which 27 nations out of the 35 ECF member nations were represented, the major decisions taken and/or announced were as follows:

The European Curling Championships 2010 have been awarded to Champéry, Switzerland.

The European Mixed Curling Championships will in future be played in only 3 groups (previously 4 groups) so as to allow the participating teams more games.

A completely revised constitution has been adopted to enter into force as of January 1, 2008
